Cynthiana man charged with abusing child

A 22-year-old Cynthiana man is in jail following an investigation into accusations that on Oct. 24, he caused physical injury to a 2-year-old child. According to court records, David A. Burden Jr., 22, Oddville Avenue, is charged with first degree criminal abuse, child under 12 years old. He was arrested in Lexington on Nov. 12 at Amazon.com and lodged in the Bourbon County Detention Center under a $50,000 full cash bond. Kentucky State Police, who is investigating the incident, declined comment at this time.

Poinsettias available from HCHS FFA

Harrison County High School's FFA Chapter is taking orders for its annual flower drive. This year students have been divided between the two FFA advisors, Nicki Jones and Todd Brannock. The team that sells the most earns bragging rights. The advisor for the team selling the least could face consequences such as having to wear pink, skinny jeans, Santa suits or having to dye a beard or shave an eyebrow. Those wishing to order a poinsettia should do so under the name of a specific student or advisor. The cost of the flowers is $7 for a 2 quart, which contains six to eight red blooms and is 14 to 15 inches tall. A 3.5 quart contains 10 to 14 red blooms, 19 to 21 inches tall and costs $14. Discounts are available for orders of 10 or more. Poinsettias should be delivered the first week of December. To place an order, call the high school at 234-7117 ask for one of the ag advisors or email todd.brannock@harrison.kyschools.us or nicki.jones@harrison.kyschools.us.

Brown indicted in two counties

Wife of former mayor arrested on charges in Harrison, Lawrence

By BECKY BARNES, EDITOR

Brenda Kay Brown and her brother Roger Kirk were arrested Tuesday by Kentucky State Police on warrants issued as a result of indictments in Harrison and Lawrence counties last Thursday and Friday. According to information released by KSP Wednesday morning, Brown is alleged to have stolen and obtained several millions of dollars by various means including the obtaining of CD's, monetary gifts, property transfers, and unauthorized purchases utilizing the assets of her husband, James Brown, for her personal financial gain. Kay Brown, 62, was indicted by a Harrison County grand jury on Thursday on charges of financial exploitation of an adult (more than $300), first degree perjury and second degree criminal possession of a forged instrument. Brown is the estranged wife of former Cynthiana mayor and businessman Jim Brown, who suffered a stroke on Dec. 23, 2008, which rendered him dependent on others for his care. The first count alleges that between May 14, 2010, and Nov. 8, 2012, she "knowingly and willfully financially exploited James A. Brown..." The grand jury further claims that on Oct. 5, 2011, while under oath, Kay Brown made a material false statement that she did not believe. The third count alleges that on Feb. 25, 2011, Kay Brown committed forgery when, with knowledge that it was forged and with intent to defraud, deceive or injure another, she possessed and/or uttered a forged motor vehicle title. According to the indictment, bond for Kay Brown was set at $500,000. She was also indicted in Lawrence County on Friday along with her brother Roger "R.B." Kirk, 65, of Catlettsburg on charges of receiving stolen property over $10,000/complicity and second degree criminal possession of forged instrument/complicity. According to the indictment, on or before Oct. 24, 2011, Kay Brown, acting alone or in complicity with Kirk, allegedly knowingly and unlawfully took $39,654.04 from James A. Brown by fraudulently cashing a U.S. Treasury check make out to James A. Brown, and Brenda Kay Booth Brown and Kirk were in possession of a forged U.S. Treasury check made out to James A. Brown with the intent to defraud. Jim and Kay Brown were married in February 2008. He suffered a stroke just before Christmas the same year. There are four civil cases pending in Harrison County against Kay Brown and filed by her estranged husband's guardian and conservator. One of those pending proceedings is a divorce. Kay Brown also has a Chapter 7 bankruptcy case pending in U.S. District Court in Lexington. An attempt was made to reach Kay Brown for comment. She did not respond to a message left on her phone. Adult Exploitation over $300 is a class C Felony punishable by 5 to 10 years in prison. Complicity to Theft By Unlawful Taking, when the value of the property is over $10,000; Perjury-1st Degree; and Criminal Possession of a Forged Instrument-2nd Degree are all Class D felonies, punishable by 1 to 5 years in prison.

Kay Brown

Test scores put district in middle

Cameron Kinsey, Southside Elementary fifth grader, poses with a practice test.

First K-PREP results are in

By BECKY BARNES, EDITOR

While the recently released test scores from the first K-PREP shows Harrison County schools hovering around the middle of the 174 school districts in the state, there are some brighter spots as well. Kentucky Performance Rating for Educational Progress (K-PREP) is the result of the 2009 General Assembly mandate for a new public school assessment program. Local administrators have been awaiting the changes, knowing that they would be drastic. "This is completely different than anything we've had since KERA," said Superintendent Andy Dotson. Of the 174 school districts in the state, Harrison County ranked 80th. Some of the school districts in neighboring counties fared better than Harrison County. Scott County ranked 40th ahead of Bourbon County's 59th place and Pendleton County's 73rd. The rest finished behind Harrison County. Bracken County ranked 96th followed by Grant County at 106, Paris at 161, Nicholas 163 and Robertson 172. Case noted that last year was the first year the new standards applied in math and reading and it was the first year the new curriculum was introduced to teachers and students. "Anytime you have change there is an adjustment period," Case said, noting that the 2011 testing created a baseline for future testing. K-PREP is a nationally standardized test which has been approved by 47 states. However, Kentucky was the first to test under the new standards. Previously, school districts were shooting for a 100 percent proficiency on a scale of 0 to 140. Now the goal is established based on the scores from the previous testing cycle.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

"Walk Through Bethlehem"
Oakland Christian Church, Pendleton County, 149 Oakland Church Road, will host a Walk through Bethlehem this holiday season. Your trip will take you on an outdoor adventure to first century Bethlehem on the night Jesus was born.

"Walk Through Bethlehem 2012" is Oakland's holiday gift to the community. Oakland invites you to bring your children to Oakland where they can discover the real side of Christmas.

Prior to your tour, you will meet in the sanctuary and listen to special guest singers. (Remember to dress warmly.)

This event will be held on Nov. 24, 25, and Dec. 1 and 2 with tours being held 6-8:30 p.m. each evening. For more information contact the church at 859-654-6174 or 606-782-0930.

ODDVILLE CHRISTIAN

Oddville Christian was treated with an unexpected visit from Bro. Tom Fogle and the "Stairway to Heaven" Band at the morning worship hour. Fogle's grandson is James Moore.

Announcement was made that final paperwork is almost completed on construction plans to increase the size of the main meeting room and move the Baptistry.

Two new members by transfer came Sunday – and were inducted into a Ladies Quartet – performing in the 4 p.m. service the same day.

Tolson invites everyone to join Oddville Christian on Nov. 18 for morning worship at 11 a.m., followed by a traditional Thanksgiving dinner and special music program at 2 p.m. by the Solid Ground Singers. The usual preaching service will be held at 4 p.m. Please note the 4 p.m. time change for the winter months evening services.

Bro. Danny Tolson, incoming President of the Licking Valley Men's Fellowship, reminded the congregation of the monthly meeting at Robinson Christian Church on Nov. 19. Just follow the Robinson Christian Church signs beginning at the Pleasant Street bridge at Hwy. 36 W.

On Dec. 30, a community celebration dinner will be held at Oddville Christian to honor Bro. Paul Stamper's 85th birthday. Stamper is still actively ministering at the Gardnersville Church of Christ and will be speaking as well as celebrating with old friends and new. Stamper held a very successful ministry for several years at Central Christian in Belmont.

Mirror magic

A month or so ago, I met a man with part of his right arm missing – he was a tree trimmer and had an accident involving a chain saw.

I asked him if the missing part ever hurt. He said as a matter of fact, it was bothering him as we were talking.

Doctors call it "phantom pain." The limb or body part is no longer there, but the person may still feel as if it is. Sometimes an amputated foot tickles or gets that "pins and needles" sensation of having fallen asleep. Sometimes a missing arm or leg aches or itches – or hurts like heck.

Sometimes the pain is unbearable.

Years ago I wrote a story for the newspaper about a woman who was going nearly insane from the pain in her leg that wasn't there. She had lost it in a motorcycle accident 20-plus years earlier.

I met her while she was undergoing something called mirror therapy, developed by a neuroscientist at the University of California at San Diego. He used mirrors so amputees could "see" and "move" their missing limbs. It tricks the brain into thinking the limb is really there.

Nancy Kennedy

GRACE NOTES

Because phantom pain is a brain thing – the brain somehow thinks the limb is still there – the "cure," as the neurologist discovered, is a brain thing, too. It happens when amputees watch their intact limbs move and imagine the missing limb making the movements. Somehow, it tricks the brain into making the pain go away.

The late Dr. Paul Brand, a Christian physician, once wrote about a patient with serious and painful circulation problems but refused an amputation. As his pain increased, so did his bitterness. When he couldn't stand the pain any longer he told Brand, "Cut it off!"

Then he said he wanted to keep the amputated leg in a pickling jar on the mantle where he could taunt it, "Ha! You can't hurt me anymore!"

However, after the amputation the man experienced excruciating phantom pain. Brand said the man hated his leg with such intensity that the pain had lodged permanently in his brain.

Brand said watching his patient's unbearable pain over something that was no longer there made him think about how some Christians suffer with guilt and the memory of past sin that's been long forgiven. He noted that they obsess over it and let it cripple their ministry and their relationships and rob them of their joy.

"They live in fear that someone will discover their past," he wrote. "So, they work overtime trying to prove to God that they're repentant. They erect barriers against the enveloping, loving grace of God...and become as pitiful as (the man) shaking his fist in fury at the pickled leg on the mantle."

I confess I've got a few pickled legs on my mantle, things I return to, closing my eyes in pain at the memory, cringing as I beg God to forgive me.

Even though I know he already has, sometimes the pain of guilt is still there, haunting me, taunting me.

If I hadn't done that, I think. If I hadn't been so selfish, if I had been more loving, if I had been more forgiving, less condemning. If I had prayed more, been more obedient.

The list goes on, but it always ends with the same pain-filled plea: "Please forgive me, God! Please?"

But he has forgiven me. It's my phantom pain that makes me think he hasn't.

Physical phantom limb pain is cured with mirrors. When the amputee fixes his or her eyes on the reflection of the remaining limb, on what's really there, only then does the brain say, "Oh yeah. The source of pain is gone. I don't have to hurt anymore."

I watched the woman who had lost her leg some 20 years earlier as the therapist placed a mirror against her leg, which made it look as if she had two legs. As she fixed her eyes on the mirror, she cried, not from the pain she had been in, but because the pain was gone.

Similarly, Christians suffering from the pain of guilt for sin already forgiven, the cure is fixing our eyes on Jesus and the cross and hearing him say, "It is finished."

Our guilt is gone. It's a phantom. It's no longer there. It can't hurt us anymore.

Harrison grand jury indicts 12 in Thursday session

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

In addition to last Thursday's indictment of Kay Brown, the wife of former Cynthiana mayor Jim Brown, the grand jury also issued indictments against 11 others. (See related story on the front page)

Forty-one-year-old Christopher Beckley faces a four-count indictment on charges that he had sexual intercourse with a child under 18 years old who was a relative.

He is officially charged with two counts of incest from incidents alleged to have occurred in November 2011.

He is also accused of first degree unlawful transaction with a minor for having knowingly induced, assisted or caused a victim under 16 years old to engage in illegal controlled substances activity, and first degree sexual abuse.

According to the indictment, Beckley was in a position of authority or had been granted special trust and that he had subjected the under-16 juvenile to sexual contact.

Brent Smith, 24, faces

a four-count indictment on sex-related charges.

His charges are use of minor less than 18 years old in a sexual performance, use of a minor less than 16 years old in a sexual performance, third degree rape and first degree sexual abuse.

The grand jury alleges that between Jan. 1, 2011, and Aug. 7, 2011, Smith used a minor under 16 years old in a sexual performance. Also between Jan. 1, 2011 and April 8, 2012, Smith allegedly used a minor under 18 years old in a sexual performance.

Smith is accused of the rape of a girl less than 16 years old who was incapable of consents because of her age.

Also, between Jan. 1, 2011, and April 8, 2012, Smith is accused of subjecting a minor under 18 years old to first degree sexual abuse by being in a position of authority and using that authority to gain sexual contact.

Austin Lail, 19, was indicted on charges that stem from an Aug. 30, 2012, burglary of Angilo's Pizza.

Lail is accused of third degree burglary, theft by unlawful taking under $500, and second degree criminal mischief.

He is alleged to have broken into the Harrison Square business and taken property belonging to Angilo's. He is also accused of damaging property during the course of the burglary.

A three-count indictment was issued against Dwayne Moore III, 19, on charges of third degree complicity to burglary, complicity to theft by unlawful taking less than $500 and second degree complicity to criminal mischief.

The grand jury alleges that Moore was with Lail on Aug. 30, and aided, counseled or attempted to aid Lail in either planning or committing the burglary.

Jeremy Courtney, 29, faces a two-count indictment on charges of first degree fleeing or evading police and operating a motor vehicle under the influence, first offense with aggravating circumstances, refusal.

The first count states that on Oct. 7, Courtney attempted to elude police when he knowingly and wantonly disobeyed a direction to stop his motor vehicle.

His second count stems from his refusal to submit to any tests of his blood, breath or urine.

His bond was set at $2,500.

Kayla Hively, 23, was indicted on a charge of failure to report change in order to receive benefits, valued at $100 or more.

The grand jury asserts that between June 21, 2010, and Dec. 31, 2011, Hively continued to receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistant Program benefits when she failed to report a change in the factors affecting her eligibility for benefits.

Her bond is $2,500.

Noble Gabbard Jr., 36, was indicted on a charge of theft by unlawful taking, $500 or more but less than $10,000.

His charge stems from an April 28, 2012, incident at Cynthiana Jewelry and Pawn where he allegedly took three 4-wheelers.

His bond is $5,000.

Bond is also $5,000 for James Purvis, 39, who was indicted on charges of tampering with physical evidence, third degree possession of controlled substance (Alprazolam) and second degree persistent felony offender.

On Sept. 26, 2012, Purvis allegedly destroyed, mutilated, concealed, removed or altered physical evidence that may be used in an official proceeding.

He is also accused of having possession of a Schedule IV controlled substance.

An eight-count indictment was issued for Richard Johnson, 28, for incidents that allegedly occurred over a three-week period during July and August, 2012.

Seven of the eight counts were for property owned by Robert Johnson including a Rossi Rio Grande 45-70 caliber rifle, a Ruger .44 magnum revolver, a Bostich hardwood floor nailer, a Cummins generator, a Remington 700 30/06 bolt-action rifle, a Snap-on 18-volt impact wrench and a Henry lever-action .22 caliber rifle.

He is also accused of taking $310 from Rebecca Russell.

His bond is $5,000.

Toni Rae Thompson, 45, was indicted on charges of first degree trafficking in a controlled substance (Oxycodone), first offense, and for being a persistent felony offender.

Thompson's trafficking charge stems from an Aug. 24, 2011, incident where she is alleged to have sold less than 10 dosage units to another person.

Her bond is $10,000.

Ernest Pyles, 29, was named in two separate indictments totaling five counts.

The first indictment alleges that on April 16 and April 18, 2012, that Pyles had possession of firearms and that he was previously convicted on felony charges.

The grand jury also charges Pyles with receiving stolen property, which was a firearm that belonged to Carl Hogg.

On May 4, Pyles allegedly received more stolen property that belonged to Carl Hogg. The property was valued at $500 or less.

Pyles' bond was set at $5,000.

Cynthiana Sports Center open house is Thursday, Nov. 29

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

An open house will be held Nov. 29, 6-8 p.m. at City Hall for the new Cynthiana-Harrison County Sports Complex.

Commissioner Billy Grayson told commissioners Tuesday that the basketball season should get underway anytime after the open house.

"There's a few things still to do," Grayson said, adding that plans are underway for hanging the new scoreboard, baseboards need to be added and the bleachers painted.

"We're shooting for Dec. 1," Grayson said, noting that there are still rules and regulations to be written regarding use of the gym.

"The public is getting antsy," said Mayor Steve Moses.

Along those same lines, the commission voted 3-1 for the approval of the new Park and Recreation System.

Moses was the only dissenting vote.

"I'm not against recreation," Moses stressed. He noted that he had written numerous recreation grants and "done more for recreation than anyone in this room," but said he could not support the realignment of the recreation department.

In other business, the commission:

- Heard Grayson report that tax bills have been mailed and that they are due Nov. 30 to avoid penalties.

- Agreed to use a temporary staffing service to provide a fill-in for the front office. Polly Wilson resigned effective Nov. 9.
- Approved the 2012 vacation buy-back for employees who did not use all of their vacation time in 2012.
- Heard Commissioner Jack Keith report that work has been completed on the U.S. 27 north water tower.
- Agreed to have three street lights installed at Rodgers Park.
- Heard Brunker announce, in absence of Commissioner Roger Slade, that the leaf pick-up will continue through Nov. 21. He asked that leaves be raked to the back of the sidewalk and not to the gutter.

- Recognized Chief Ray Johnson who was honored by Kentucky ASAP for outstanding service in substance abuse initiatives.
- Agreed to offer employment to a part-time telecommunicator, subject to pre-employment requirements.
- Declared lots 3 and 4 on Lincoln Avenue as surplus property. Restrictions are being drafted and will accompany any advertising for the sale of the property. Sealed bids will be accepted.
- Agreed to give $100 to Bluegrass Tomorrow.

Too many die too young in wars of ‘stupidity’

Editor’s note: The following is the speech given by Chuck Duffy at Battle Grove Cemetery, Nov. 11, 2012, for the annual Veterans’ Day program.

Good morning! I thank the Battle Grove Cemetery’s board of trustees, superintendent Mr. Billy Grayson and his competent staff for hosting this annual event. I am grateful to take part in this occasion.

The War to End All Wars ended in 1918 on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month. It was Armistice Day. Today we call that war -World War I. We are here today, 94 years later, to remember and honor the memory of Marine Cpl. John Milton Parsons.

The son of Granville and Julia Carrigan Parsons, Cpl. Parsons was born in nearby Brooksville on Nov. 9, 1893. He was raised in rural Harrison County, first in the Claysville area and later near Poindexter. He died in France, killed in action by enemy shell fire on Oct. 4, 1918. He was 25 years old. He died about 38 days before the war ended. His enlistment would have been completed in six months. Initially he was buried in France and three years later his remains were interred in Section H, Lot 16 in Battle Grove Cemetery.

When he enlisted in the Marines he was almost six feet tall and weighed about 150 pounds. He had blue eyes, brown hair, 20/20 vision and a ruddy complexion. The dictionary defines “ruddy” as a healthy reddish color. This likely is the result of being a farmer when he joined the Marines. He earned five bronze stars for his combat experiences in Haiti and France. He was described by several commanding officers as being of “excellent character.” I

CHUCK DUFFY

Cpl. Parsons is one of hundreds of thousands of young men and women whose lives ended prematurely in defense of our freedoms. Possibly we may be consoled by the Biblical verse “Greater love has no one than this that he lay down his life for his friends.” And that is precisely what they did.

Changing the subject - when I returned from Vietnam, I weighed about 135 lbs., which was about 30 pounds less than when I entered that country. My appearance caused friends and acquaintances to ask where I was in Vietnam. I would tell them. I was surprised that few knew anything about Vietnam. My Dad’s opinion was that unless a person had a soldier in Vietnam, then that person was not totally involved in the deadly war. It was like they were watching a news report about a stranger murdered in another city.

To illustrate Dad’s point, I recall a recent Associated Press article that centered on a soldier in the Army’s 173rd thank the Parsons’ family and Charlie Feix for providing this and much more information about Cpl. Parsons. They were also instrumental in obtaining a Veteran Administration bronze plaque at his grave site. A picture of this plaque is shown on the first page of today’s program.

If you were born on the day he died, you would be 94 years young today. It is unlikely that many of us here knew Cpl. John Milton Parsons. Obviously his life ended too soon. We can only imagine what would have occurred if he had lived: a wife, a career, possibly as a Harrison County farmer, children, grandchildren and even great-grandchildren.

Airborne Brigade. This Private First Class was killed in a remote area of Afghanistan. I quote, “American troops are still dying in Afghanistan at a pace that doesn’t often register beyond their hometowns. So far this year, it’s 31 a month on average, or one per day. National attention is drawn, briefly, to grim and arbitrary milestones such as the 1,000th and 2,000th war deaths. But days, weeks and months pass with little focus by the general public or its political leaders on the individuals behind the statistics. Each week at war has a certain sameness for those not fighting it, yet every week brings distinct pain and sorrow to the families who learn that their son or daughter, brother or sister, father or mother was killed or wounded.”

As I am not an active participant in our current war, this Associated Press columnist could have been writing about me, and I should know better.

The philosopher, George Santayana said, “Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it.”

War is the ultimate stupidity. History illustrates that we cannot eliminate this blot on our future. For example, how do we reason with a suicide bomber? How do we reason with bullies? Many young boys of my generation concluded that the bully only understands one thing, which is “a punch in the mouth.”

I believe that most dictators and strongmen are bullies. This is why our relatively peaceful nation has a Department of Defense and a military. This military enables our country to “negotiate” with folks like Hitler, Stalin, Mao, Castro, Chavez, a Taliban and assorted tyrants. I don’t know why an autocrat wants to enslave and control his population and then wants to expand to other populations. What I think I know is that this is not going to stop.

This unfortunate conclusion implies that we will always require a military with young men and women willing to protect us and to defend the ideals of our country. This means we will continue to lose young men like Corporal

John Parsons.

We are standing near a monument to Airman 2nd Class Joel Hughes Fields of Cynthiana, who was killed during the Cold War. He was 20 years old. He was a member of a crew whose military aircraft was shot down by the Soviets in 1958.

I recall two local events that remind us there is a war going on. Recently, Army Specialist 4th Class David Leland Chamberlin of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, son of the Rev. John and Cheryl Chamberlin, was seriously wounded in Afghanistan. He was transferred to a military hospital in Germany. We believe and trust he will fully recover.

Two summers ago a soldier born in Cynthiana, Sergeant Jeremy Russell Summers of the 101st Airborne Division was killed in action, also in Afghanistan. He was 27 years old. He is the son of Michael and Laura Jo Fowler Summers of Bracken County. His funeral procession proceeded on Pike Street and entered this cemetery. American flags blanketed the sidewalks. Local people stood respectfully in silence. Many carried flags. Ten days ago, officials in Bracken County designated a portion of KY Hwy. 19 from Milford to the Harrison County line, as the Sgt. Jeremy R. Summers Memorial Highway.

Cpl. John Parsons, Airman Joel Fields and Sgt. Jeremy Summers represent hundreds of thousands of young men and women who died too young while in our Armed Forces. We owe them a debt we truly cannot repay. I recite a portion of the closing benediction given at the recent Democratic Party Convention. “Almighty God ... make us ever-grateful for those who, for over two centuries, have given their lives in freedom’s defense, we commend their noble souls to your eternal care, as even now we beg the protection of your mighty arm upon our men and women in uniform ... Amen!”

Ladies and gentlemen, I thank you for being here this morning.

Doors open on new gym, Park and Recreation System

I’ll be the first to admit that I’m not athletic -- never have been, never will be.

The only time I was ever on the athletic field was as a band geek. For me, that was my way out of working in tobacco in the summer and winter.

In the summer I missed a lot of chopping weeds by sweltering on the high school pavement with a hoard of other band geeks. And, Saturdays were usually spent at some stadium in Kentucky in competition.

I missed stripping tobacco because of concert band practices and pep band for basketball games.

Yep, I was the one crashing cymbals (albeit late) during the National Anthem.

I enjoyed band, not so much the sweating.

That’s probably why I never pursued sports.

I did have a brief stint playing co-ed volleyball as an adult. Ernie and I played in a recreation league at City Hall for several years, I guess until the league dissolved.

I have spent countless hours in the bleachers at City Hall watching my son when he played basketball. He and his friends would chase up and down the court, leaping like they were in a well-rehearsed ballet over waves and bumps in the hardwood.

They learned quickly where not to dribble the ball or pass it. If you dribbled in one spot, the ball could veer uncontrolled into an opponent’s hand off of a warped board, or if you threw the ball and your teammate missed, someone had to go into the nasty basement that served as the restrooms.

Ewe. That was never good. You definitely didn’t want to bring a wet basketball back to the court.

An open house will be held Nov. 29, from 6-8 p.m., which is when the doors will open at City Hall to reveal a spanking new gym floor, new scorer’s area, new restrooms that are not in the basement, new scoreboard, arm rails for the bleachers and a fresh new atmosphere.

After that, the much-anticipated basketball season can get underway

I’m excited.

I’ve seen the new floor and it’s something to behold.

It’s bright and cheery and ... flat!

It’s taken awhile to complete, but the end result is something of which to be proud.

I just hope that the people of Cynthiana and Harrison County will also take pride in the facility and keep it nice.

And, right on cue, the new Park and Recreation Department is gearing up to begin.

The city and county governments gave their final bow Tuesday to the formation of the new department that will get rid of the out-dated Recreation Department.

Under the new plan, there will be two city commissioners, two magistrates and a member appointed by the fiscal court and city commission to make up the Department of Park and Recreation.

I’m anxious to see how this works and what changes are in store.

I hope that we don’t try to fix what’s not broken, but that we do mend what’s not working.

Support needed for senior citizens center

To the editor:

On behalf of the Harrison County Commission on Aging, I would like to encourage your support of the vital services which the Harrison County Senior Citizens Center provides. We are fortunate to have a Senior Center where our older family members and friends can be cared for, nurtured and comforted by a supportive and compassionate staff.

We are an aging culture and many of us are seeing to the needs of our parents and grandparents. It is a comfort to know that there are programs and services available for these needs. However, these services come with a price, which is becoming more difficult to meet. As with many things in life, we pay little attention to community resources until we ourselves, or those we love, are in need. While we may not yet require the Senior Citizens Center, its day services, nutrition or exercise programs, we do not have the luxury of assuming that they will always be available.

I am asking you to consider making a monetary donation to the Harrison County Senior Citizens Center. It can be a gift to honor a family member or to remember an older person. The holiday season is a good time to give a gift that will offer much needed and valuable comfort. As well, you will be ensuring that our respect will continue to be given to those who have taught us so much.

Christmas Angel Project is ready for another season

To the editor:

Christmas Season is quickly approaching. The Christmas season can be financially difficult for all families. The Harrison County Christmas Angel Project is designed to help alleviate some of the financial stress at this time of year. We serve children who meet qualifications grades kindergarten through 12. This is a program to give assistance. We are inviting and encouraging individuals, businesses, and other organizations to help support this program. You can contribute to this program by adopting an angel, monetary donation, or purchase generic gifts that can go to anyone (examples: basketballs, footballs, soccer balls, socks, gloves, books, arts supplies, craft sets, MP3 players, Barbie dolls, board games, movies, etc).

If you want to adopt an angel or donate to this program, please call 234-7160 or come to the Harrison County Community Education Center, 324 Webster Ave.

Judy Feeback,
Christmas Angel Committee Member

Food pantry needs increase during holidays

To the editor:

I want to thank all of you that contributed to the Food Pantry back in the summer when we had a very low time. All of you were very generous to help keep the doors open and serve many in need.

Some of you have ask, is there some that abuse the pantry? My answer to that is not if we can help it. We keep pretty close tabs on the clients, but if some gets by us, that is between them and God. The number that really needs it and does not abuse it far outweighs those who do, so rest assured we are doing all we can to keep it running correctly.

The need is great and as we go into the Christmas season we are in need of contributions to help buy turkeys. The churches and others are contributing the canned goods and other items for the boxes, but we need help in purchasing turkeys. We will probably purchase around 400 and the cost will be around $5,000. If you would rather purchase a turkey or more, feel free to do so, we do have freezers or give a monetary donation and we will purchase them.

I am sure as you prepare for your Christmas dinner, you will want to see others enjoy a great meal also. Anything we do to help others will not go unnoticed in God’s sight. The Bible says “If we give a cup of cold water to those in need, you have done it unto me.” Matt. 10:42. If we all join together and help, we can make it. “Little is much when God is in it.”

God Bless each of you in this Thanksgiving and Christmas season.

Appreciates United Community Fund support

To the editor:

On behalf of the Harrison County Diabetes Coalition I would like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to the Cynthiana-Harrison County United Community Fund for the support they have given us over the years. The monies we have received have been used to provide diabetic supplies to the citizens of Harrison County that have an emergency need. Please support your local United Community Fund.

Test

An example is that the district's score for the 2011 cycle was 55.8 percent. To reach its proficiency score, Harrison County as a whole needs to improve to a 58.4 percent for 2012.

Each of Harrison County's schools finished with a "needs improvement" classification.

Dotson explained that any school that scored under the top 31 percent of Kentucky's schools were classified as "needs improvement."

Case said the scores were assessed on a bell curve giving the top 10 percent of the schools a distinguished rating. The next 21 percent were proficient. The rest were "needs improvement."

Test results from more than one year will help educators determine what areas truly need improvement.

"Right now, we're shooting at a target that's a number," Dotson said.

Harrison County's schools scores were as follows:

•Eastside Elementary scored 55.3 and has a 62.5 proficiency goal. Eastside scored above 40 percent of other schools in the state.

•Northside scored 53.6 with a 62.5 proficiency goal. Northside scored above 35 percent of other schools in Kentucky.

•Southside scored 58.7 and needs to improve 3.8 percent to reach its 62.5 proficiency goal. Southside students scored above 55 percent of other schools in the state.

•Westside scored 59.4 and was ranked in the 57th percentile.

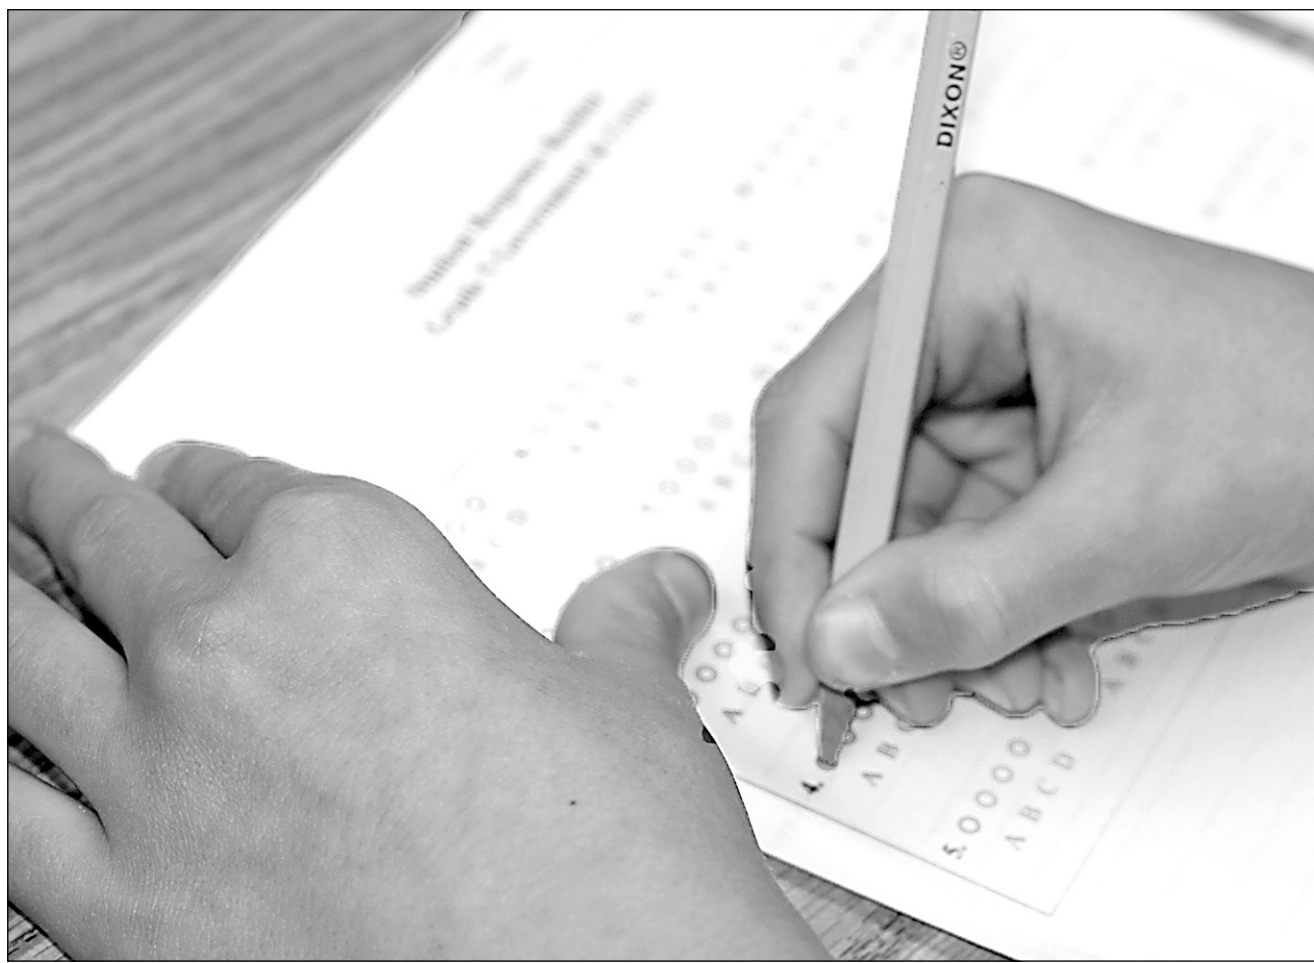

•Harrison County Middle School scored 55.5 and was ranked in the 55th percentile.

•HCHS scored 54.9 and was ranked in the 53rd percentile. HCHS was also declared a "needs improvement-focus" school.

Case explained that the "focus" indicates that the school had a 60 percent or less graduation rate for two consecutive years, which Harrison County had a 77.8 percent graduation rate; or that it had a subgroup with a score in the third standard deviation below the state average for all students, which is where HCHS fell short.

Case said the special needs subgroup at the high school scored low which created the "focus" classification.

The subgroup or gap, Case said, is defined as students who historically under perform on the tests when compared to other students. Those being students who are the free and reduced lunch population, special needs, students who speak English as a second language and African American students.

"That doesn't mean we don't have students in those groups who score well," Case stressed.

Dotson and Case said the ultimate goal of the new test is to have every student who graduates from Harrison County schools be college or career ready.

In the past, educators have concentrated on preparing students for college. Now, there is an understanding that not every child is going to college. However, those students must still be prepared for whatever career they choose.

Case said that may mean more vocational classes.

"We have to start earlier working with children, challenging kids earlier," Dotson said.

Kincaid Theatre presents A Country Christmas Carrol beginning Dec. 1

"A Country Christmas Carol" is the classic Dickens' story of Ebenezer Scrooge set in typical small town USA where Ebenezer is the banker, owner of the hotel and half of the other real estate in town. He is a mean, miserly grouch who generally hates anything that has to do with Christmas.

The widow, Bobbie Jo Cratchit, is Ebenezer's hard working secretary who has to support her two small children, Jane and Tim. Dwight, Ebenezer's nephew, has a slight drinking problem and spends more time singing and playing guitar than he does trying to find a job.

Lavinia, the hotel proprietor, tries her best to help everyone keep the Christmas spirit in a town where times are hard and money is short. Virgil, the handy man, Doris, the kiddy choir director, Radio Man, the emcee of the Christmas Talent Show and Linda Lee, a sassy young waitress are other characters that add excitement and comedic relief to the story.

All of this is topped off with Christmas carols and songs with a country-western flare that will have everyone smilin', laughin' and singin' along. "A Country Christmas Carol" is just what you need to get the old Christmas Spirit going this season.

lung cancer

protect yourself. know the facts.

with breathing, chest pain, coughing up blood, a hoarse voice, lung infections that keep coming back, and loss of appetite. These problems can be caused by other health problems. People with any of these symptoms should see their doctor.

What are screening tests?

Screening tests help doctors find many cancers early, when they are easiest to treat. However, experts have not recommended for or against lung cancer screening tests.

Researchers are currently testing several lung cancer screening tests. These include chest x-rays, sputum cytology (looking for cancer cells in phlegm under a microscope), and CAT scans (combining several x-rays to show the inside of the body from different angles).

You should talk with your doctor about your own lung cancer risk factors and the possible benefits and harms of being screened.

How can I reduce my chance of getting lung cancer?

- Stop smoking. This is the most important thing you can do, no matter how old you are or how much you smoke. Help is available through smoking cessation classes, and you may also call Kentucky's Tobacco Quit Line, 1-800-QUIT NOW for one-on-one counseling.
- Avoid being around secondhand smoke (the smoke from other people's cigarettes, cigars and pipes).
- Have your home tested for radon. Call your local health department for more information and a free radon test kit.

Are chewing tobacco and snuff safe substitutes for cigarettes?

NO. These forms of smokeless tobacco do not cause lung cancer, but they are linked to cancers of the lip, tongue, cheeks, gums, mouth and pancreas.

Where can I get more information?

For information on all types of cancer, call the National Cancer Institute's Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER or go to www.cancer.gov. ## How to brew the perfect cup of coffee (StatePoint) It's not magic. Brewing the perfect cup of coffee can take place in your own kitchen!

As with any recipe, fresh, high-quality ingredients matter. Start with fresh, cold water. If you don't like the taste of your tap water, use filtered water for better flavor. Remember, grinding coffee in advance of brewing means loss of flavor. So invest in a coffee grinder for a fresher brew.

Not all coffee beans are created equally -- rely on a coffee with distinctive flavor profiles and consistent roasting, such as Portland Roasting Coffee, named by "Roast Magazine" as the 2012 Roaster of the Year. Use two tablespoons of ground coffee per 6 oz. of water. Make sure your brewing device reaches between 195F-205F to extract maximum flavor.

CURRY HOMEMAKER CLUB

The Curry Homemaker Club traveled to Georgetown this past summer for a meal at the Wilshire Restaurant. After the meal, members toured historic Ward Hall, Georgetown.

Ward Hall is a Greek Revival Villa built by Junius and Matilda Ward and completed in 1867. The house was built at a cost of $50,000 and the Wards were only able to enjoy it for about 10 years. They considered this their summer home. The Civil War reduced their fortune and they were forced into bankruptcy. There were 11 subsequent owners before being purchased by the Ward Hall Preservation Foundation in 2004. The house is undergoing restoration as monies allow. The group was guided through the house.

The Curry Homemaker Club meets on the second Thursday of each month at 7 p.m., usually at the Harrison County Extension Office. There are 17 members and invites you to join us for fellowship, learning and giving, all a part of the organization.

The Cynthiana Democrat is pleased to assist newlyweds, new parents or those celebrating anniversaries on the Living Page and are published at no cost, however, these articles must be submitted for publishing within 6 months of the event. Articles which do not meet the deadlines will be referred to the advertising department. We do accept photos. We reserve the right to edit all copy for style and brevity. All items submitted must have signatures of both parties with a daytime phone number.

Farming

Local input requested for NRCS Farmbill Program

The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) administers the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP), a federal program that provides technical and financial assistance to land users to address natural resource concerns. NRCS is asking for local input for the fiscal year 2013 program.

For fiscal year 2013

EQTP will be administered in Kentucky using four ranking areas across the state. The ranking areas consist of multiple counties that have been determined to have similar farming operations and resource concerns. Applicants within each ranking area compete only with others in that ranking area. NRCS has asked for local input from each of these areas.

A Local Working Group meeting consisting of Boyd, Bracken, Carter, Greenup, Harrison, Lewis, Mason, Pendleton and Robertson counties is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 4 at 10 a.m. at the Mason County Extension Office. Recommendations from this group will be provided to NRCS to be used in developing the criteria used to award EQIP contracts during fiscal year 2013.

The Local Working Group was established by the 2002 Farm Bill as a group to provide recommendations to RCS on local natural resource priorities and criteria for conservation activities and programs. Originally, this group was limited to governmental representatives, however, the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008 (2008 Farm Bill) has now made Local Working Group meetings public meetings and all interested persons are invited to attend.

This is your opportunity to have input regarding the ranking criteria for the Environmental Quality Incentives Program.

For additional information or if you have questions or require special accommodations contact the Maysville NRCS Office at 606-759-5570.

For more information regarding EQIP and local ranking areas, contact the NRCS local field office at 234-5876. To find the location of your local NRCS field office go to www.mcs.usda.gov.

Bark is better than bite

Jeneen Wiche

Columnist
www.SwallowRailFarm.com

There are certain trees that consistently remain my favorites.

When I think about their common characteristics, one thing stands out: the bark. Interesting bark is always there, whether the tree is leafing out, blooming or showing dramatic fall color.

Bark remains constant whether the tree is good, bad, pretty or ugly.

Bark has become one of those things we look to when deciding on what to plant, but have you ever thought about the function of bark?

What purpose does it serve; and how important is it to the health of the tree?

Bark is essentially dead tissue that protects the vascular system of the tree. The vascular cambium layer is just beneath the tree's bark.

The cambium layer produces and supports the xylem, which is living tissue that conducts water, and the phloem, which transports nutrients through the tree.

When the living cells of the cambium stop dividing, they move outwards as waste material forming the bark.

How these cells are arranged and how quickly they become waste creates the variety of bark we see in nature.

Most of us do not relate to the function of bark in such scientific terms; we like it or not for aesthetic reasons. Bark can be smooth, scaly, peeling, mottled, stripped or even barbed. I appreciate bark in all its function but there are some that stand out; its bark that makes you want to touch it!

Smooth

Some of the nicest trees for smooth bark are two that have a sculptural quality in their growth habit.

The yellowwood, or Cladrastis kentuckea, has elephant-gray bark that you want to reach out and touch because it looks so smooth.

The same holds true for many of the Japanese maples, or Acer palmatum. Many of the Japanese maples are valued for their leaf shape and color, but I honestly prefer this tree when it is naked in the winter, revealing its sculptural silhouette and smooth bark.

And, who can forget the European beech, Fagus sylvatica, with white-gray, silky smooth bark that towers above on a perfectly straight trunk.

Stripped and Streaked

The smooth grayish vertical streaking of the serviceberry's trunk, or Amelanchier arborea, is subtle compared to the much more pronounced stripes of the stripped-bark maple.

Both Acer pensylvanicum and Acer tegmentosum are as dramatic as it comes for stripped bark but they can be challenging to grow in an average landscape.

They prefer acid, moist and well-drained soil and they must be planted as under story trees because they also like cool soil with some shade.

I finally got one to take off but as luck would have it, a deer used it as a back-scratcher and I may be back to square one.

It is worth the effort though, so I'll give it one more shot.

Mottled

Mottled bark is everyone's favorite; it's cool looking.

The lace bark elm, or Ulmus parvifolia, Parrotia and Stewartia species and the sycamore all have exfoliating bark that creates a patchwork of grays, greens, browns and oranges. And, yes, even a pine tree comes with interesting bark, the lacebark pine, or Pinus bungeana.

Peeling

Many of the trees that have mottled bark also have peeling bark because it is the peeling and flaking off of bark that creates the mottled effect.

Betula nigra, or the river birch, is probably the most recognizable of the peeling-bark trees in the landscape, but there are others that prove even more dramatic.

The cornelian cherry, or Cornus mas, is a small tree with flaking bark that reveals a multi-tone trunk of cinnamon and shades of gray.

On the more dramatic side, the paper bark maple, or Acer griseum, looks like it has some sort of death wish because the cinnamon-red bark is literally peeling away from the trunk and branches.

The Bourbon/Harrison Counties Kentucky Agency for Substance Abuse Policy Board (KY-ASAP) held their 5th annual awards luncheon on Thursday, November 1, at The First Presbyterian Church in Paris. Board members were treated to a special meal in appreciation for their work in substance abuse. Cynthiana Police Chief Ray Johnson and Paris Police Assistant Chief Rob Williams were recognized for their work in substance abuse law enforcement. Leslie Spears was honored for serving 4 years as KY-ASAP Board Chair. Jessica Turney and Ronnie Spicer were recognized for serving as board officers for 4 years. Attendance awards were presented to Linda Dawson, Lisa Doyle, Leslie Spears, Ronnie Spicer, Karen Adams, Lois Gross and Tony Hall. Don Johnson was recognized for furnishing the delicious Cajun meal. The First Presbyterian Church of Paris and Cynthiana Christian Church were recognized for their support.

VETERANS FISH FRY. The Cynthiana Elks Lodge 438 served a free Fish Fry luncheon open to all Military veterans, along with local EMT, fire, police and sheriff's department personnel on Friday Nov. 9 at the Cynthiana Elks Lodge. Lunch was served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Jeff Kinney's Eastside Elementary fifth grade History class created a Veterans Documentary that they presented during the event. Cedar Ridge also transported their veterans to the event. Total attendance was approximately 225, counting veterans, drivers, spouses, History Class, public safety personnel and Cynthiana Elk member workers. Pictured from left: Gary Stakelin, US Army-Vietnam, Dec. 1967-1968, left the service in 1999, David Turner, Cynthiana Elks Lodge 438 Exalted Ruler, US Navy, 1971 -1973 and Ed Herrington-US Army, May 1952-July 1953, Anti Aircraft Gun Battalion.

HMH completes renovation, expansion project

Harrison Memorial Hospital has completed the rehabilitation services department and cafeteria renovation project, which provides additional square footage, more equipment and more offerings for individuals in our service area.

"With all the varied services now offered in the rehabilitation services department we created a need for new and expanded space," says Sheila Currans, HMH Chief Executive Officer. "The addition of our orthopedic surgeon and sports medicine physician, Dr. James Pettey, has increased patient volume considerably over the last two years."

The rehabilitation services department offers physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, massage therapy and a wellness center. Cardiopulmonary rehabilitation is also located in this area.

The project began with a 2,450 square foot addition to the department. In addition to adding more square footage, the ceiling was extended 11 feet. "The additional open space will allow athletes room to kick and bat balls, and we'll also use the area for group classes, like the Silver Sneakers program," says Don Wynn, Director of Ancillary Services.

With the newly improved space, the department has more up-to-date private treatment rooms for patient comfort and privacy. In addition, the center has updated its equipment. The department added more elliptical machines, treadmills, bikes and strength training equipment. The equipment is used for both patient treatments and wellness center clients. Dedicated space for the cardiopulmonary rehabilitation department was also provided with this project.

The renovation within the wellness center creates a more social environment and is distinctly separate now from the patient treatment area. The wellness center is open to the public on a monthly fee basis of $20. There is a fitness trainer who customizes a program for each customer. The center also has a cardio-theatre, which allows clients to watch television on any of the plasma televisions while using the cardio equipment. The new layout includes a station in the center of the room so the fitness trainers can monitor clients. Hours for the center are 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Friday. To see the recently renovated department or join the wellness center, contact the HMH Rehabilitation Services Department at 859-235-3553.

The HMH renovation project also included remodeling and expansion of the dining area located on the ground floor of the facility. The overall renovation of the cafeteria includes increased space for dining, new serving equipment and a three-sided salad bar for easier access. Visitors will enjoy more healthy food choices, as well as convenient "grab and go" sandwich options.

The project also includes renovation of the materials management department to make the area more efficient for storage and transport of medical supplies.

For more information about the completed HMH renovation project, visit www.harrison-memhosp.com.

Training session. On Nov. 7, the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning Commission hosted the second annual regional training session led by David Pike of Pike Legal Group, LLC. The Prizing House held the full day event which had an attendance of 70 people from across the region including the following counties: Harrison, Jessamine, Clark, Grant, Scott, Bourbon, Fayette, Henry, Kenton, Pendleton, Franklin, and Pike. The Planning Commission thanks the following elected officials, Mayor Steve Moses, Commissioners Jack Keith and Gary Brunker, and Magistrates Larry Wells, William Fritz, and Jeff Brunker who were in attendance. The Planning Commission would also like to thank 3M, Bullard, Harrison Memorial Hospital, Judge Alex Barnett, Harrison County EMA, Pat Greenier at the Chamber of Commerce, Ross, Sinclair and Associates, Avi's Bakery, Setter Ridge Outfitters, Rohs Theater, Roger Slade, and Billy Grayson for providing items to showcase Cynthiana to our visitors from out of town. The event was a huge success and attendees made a point in thanking the community for their hospitality and many stated they would return to explore Cynthiana and Harrison County in the future. The Planning Commission looks forward to hosting this event again next year, and showcasing Cynthiana, Harrison County and Berry to even more Kentucky counties.

CRAM THE CRUISER Kentucky State Police kicked off their third annual 'Cram the Cruiser' food drive this week. Food collection sites have been established at all 16 posts throughout the state and at the Headquarters location in Frankfort. The campaign extends through Dec. 14 and is designed to collect non-perishable food items for needy families. The food will be distributed to local shelters, churches or other organizations serving those in need during the holiday season. Suggested donations include canned fruit and vegetables, canned meat, macaroni and cheese, cereal, peanut butter, jelly, canned soups, chili or spaghetti sauce, brownie and cake mixes, coffee, water, powdered milk and juices. Last year KSP collected 50,931 pounds of food. For the Post 6 area, which includes Harrison County, look for tubs to donate food in various locations throughout Cynthiana. Watch for details of a cruiser event as well.

Couple shares online dating experiences in new book

By BEN HYATT, NEWS WRITER

Dating or the events leading up to a date can be nerve racking for most. Some find the world of dating so threatening that it may take years for one to open-up enough to re-enter the world of dating.

However, with the development of technology so too has the world of dating taken a jump. Many singles have ventured into the world of online dating in hopes of finding a soul mate. However, online dating still has pressures that come with it. The first date.

It is one thing to have met someone in person and ask them out for dinner and a movie, but what happens when you have never seen or heard the voice of your online friend.

All of these questions and concerns have gone through the minds of Harrison County's newest authors Jeanin Lister and William McCann Jr., who met through online dating. The two exchanged emails for several weeks before they met face to face, which in their minds, brought them closer.

"Internet dating is a safer way to ask all the questions you want to know about someone," said Lister. "We had about 80 emails between us before we ever met in person."

Lister said it was from those 80 emails that their book, "He Said She Said," took form and became a model for others to use in their own online dating.

Lister said after the two exchanged email addresses, they began a series of "would you rather" questions to become more acquainted with each other.

"You first have to make the decision whether or not to be honest to the questions being asked," said Lister. "If you're honest, then you can really learn a lot about the other person."

McCann said that after the two began asking questions, he too began to learn things about himself.

"The questions can make you think about what is important to you," said McCann. "From the colors you like to the places you want to see. It is easier to talk if the other person knows something about you."

After the two met for the first time in a Barnes and Noble Store in Lexington, they have remained in contact and are currently dating.

"I looked back at all of our emails and to say the least I found it all so amusing," said Lister. "We just had to make it into a book. An accidental book, if you will."

McCann said it's their goal that their book, which is available on Kindle and Amazon.com, will set some kind of guidelines for those unsure about the world of online dating.

"Online dating has a lot of luck to it so anything that increases your luck is a good thing," said Lister.

McCann said he hopes that He Said She Said will also be available in bookstores in Lexington soon.

United Community Fund needs your help to reach $80,000 goal for 2013

The United Community Fund has been working in Cynthiana and Harrison County since 1972 to raise funds for local community needs such as assisting families in crisis, developing children, helping seniors and encouraging the health and well being of our community.

The United Community Fund is not affiliated with the United Way. We do not have United Way in Cynthiana and Harrison County. United Fund is a 501 (c3) organization. 100 percent of the funds raised are contributed to serve people in Cynthiana and Harrison County. Individuals can indicate on a company United Way pledge form if they would like for their money to go to Harrison County United Community Fund.

Category and Percent Funds Allocated: Youth Development and Needs 25.0%; Senior Citizens 20.8%; Community Services/Other 29.7%; Handicapped 10.7%; Public Health and Safety 13.8%.

United Fund currently allocates money to the following local organizations: Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Neediest Kids of All, Ombudsman Agency, Legal Aid of the Bluegrass, Licking River Valley Resource Conservation and Development, Cynthiana Harrison County Home Assistance Incorp., Salvation Army, Harrison County Ministerial Association, Harrison County Food Pantry, Harrison County 4-H Council, Cynthiana-Harrison County Recreation Department, Harrison County Mental Health, Community & Employment Opportunities, Cynthiana-

Harrison County Museum, Clothing Closet, Harrison County Cancer Coalition, Journey Medical Mission, Commission on Aging, Adult Day Care, Cynthiana-Harrison County Diabetes Association, Harrison County Active Living Center.

The Board consists of local citizens who volunteer their time to raise funds and distribute those funds to local organizations. Board members include the following people: Ann Getting, Charlie Tribble, Wanda Jones, Donna Nelson, Lauren Mattox, Alean Spicer, Kenneth Newby, Lonnie Tolson, Mary Sue Grubb, Robin Florence, and Judy Feeback. Each fall we collect contributions and each spring the requesting agencies present their missions, operating budgets, services provided and the number of people served in Cynthiana-Harrison County to the Board which then makes the allocation decisions.

Our 2013 contribution goal is $80,000. Please help this year by giving to the United Community Fund. You can mail your contributions to United Community Fund, P.O. Box 194, Cynthiana, KY 41031. You will receive a receipt for taxes.

Great gifts ideas for kids to give

(StatePoint) Helping your child pick out great gifts can be tricky and often times, impersonal. This year, encourage your child's creativity with easy kids' crafts they'll give as gifts.
Do-it-yourself hand-made gifts are a growing trend, thanks to the popularity of sites like Etsy and Pinterest.
"Unlike a store-bought present, a handmade present is a personalized treasure made by you!" says

Meg Survil, general manager of the brand MakIt, which preserves children's artwork on objects like plates and bowls.
Here are a few suggestions for thoughtful gifts kids can give this holiday:
• Scrapbooks are a great way for children to show their appreciation for friends and siblings.
• Immortalizing your child's artwork or an adorable photograph is a perfect keepsake from your child. Learn more at www.MakIt.com or by calling 1-800-248-9443.

• You and your child can have fun putting together gift baskets. Choose a theme to reflect the personality of the recipient. Use your imagination when it comes to the theme and always make sure the basket is overflowing!
With handmade gifts like these, your child is sure to have the perfect present for everyone.

The veterans pictured here were inadvertently omitted from our recent Salute to Armed Forces feature. We regret the oversight, and would like to honor these men for their dedicated service to our country.

Basketball Breds to sport a veteran line up with an up tempo outlook

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

“I would really like to see the community get behind this team,” said Coach Larry Kendall. “We are going to play an exciting brand of basketball with a lot of different players and a lot of action.”

This is the new outlook on the Hilltop as Kendall begins his first year of work as the varsity coach for the Harrison County Thorobreds. He starts his career with a veteran line up with still a lot of youth.

Although Kendall will see many familiar faces, three that he saw for the past three years are gone.

Last year’s leading scorer Caleb Ford, the defensive stopper Nick Slucher and big Walker Hill have each graduated and moved on to college.

Returning are five seniors who started at least one game last season, three of whom started nearly every game.

Point guard Scott Kendall, the coach’s son, returns to direct the Thorobreds. Shooting guard Jordan Stubbs, center Tyler Wagner and forwards Jordan Martin and Eli Gross also are back bringing scoring, rebounding and with Martin, spirited defense, to the Thorobreds’ lineup.

Add the sixth senior, Tommy Vallandingham, and Kendall has much experience in the senior class.

Seniors do not spell the end of the veterans that return for the Breds.

Junior Dillon Pulliam returns as the second leading scorer last season.

Guard Grant Carr played a key roll in several games last year while fellow junior Mason Ritchie played in some games down the stretch in 2011-12.

Rounding out the junior class is 6-foot, 9-inch Landon Palmer who played for the first time last season. Kendall thinks that the young giant gets better with every practice and will bring him along slowly this season.

There are seven sophomores on the 20-man varsity/jv roster.

Only Trenton Thompson has any varsity experience among this second-year group. While battling a knee injury presently,

Thompson will see significant playing time this season.

The other sophomores, Robbie Stroub, Jeffrey Kenney, Brandon Case, Devon Barton, D.J. Hicks and Austin Short will begin with the junior varsity but will also be counted on to improve and move up to help the varsity as the year goes by.

Three freshmen are currently on the junior varsity roster: Brock Jenkins, Zachary Pulliam and Jovon Williams will play freshman and junior varsity with the varsity just a bit of improvement away.

“Depth is one of our major strengths,” Kendall emphasized. “We will play up-tempo for the entire game using several players. Many of our retuning players have very similar talents yet each of them has their own particular skill set. We are going to utilize all of the positive aspects of each player and try to wear the opposition down.”

The schedule for 2012-13 is filled with many of the old rivals along with some new challenges.

It begins on Wednesday, Nov. 28, on the road with St. Patrick before the home season opens two days later on Friday, Nov. 30, with St. Henry of the 9th Region.

Some of the highlights are the DWI Tournament at Holmes on the Friday and Saturday before Christmas.

The Breds will face Holmes in the second game on Friday with the winner and loser advancing to the next day to play either Scott High or Russell.

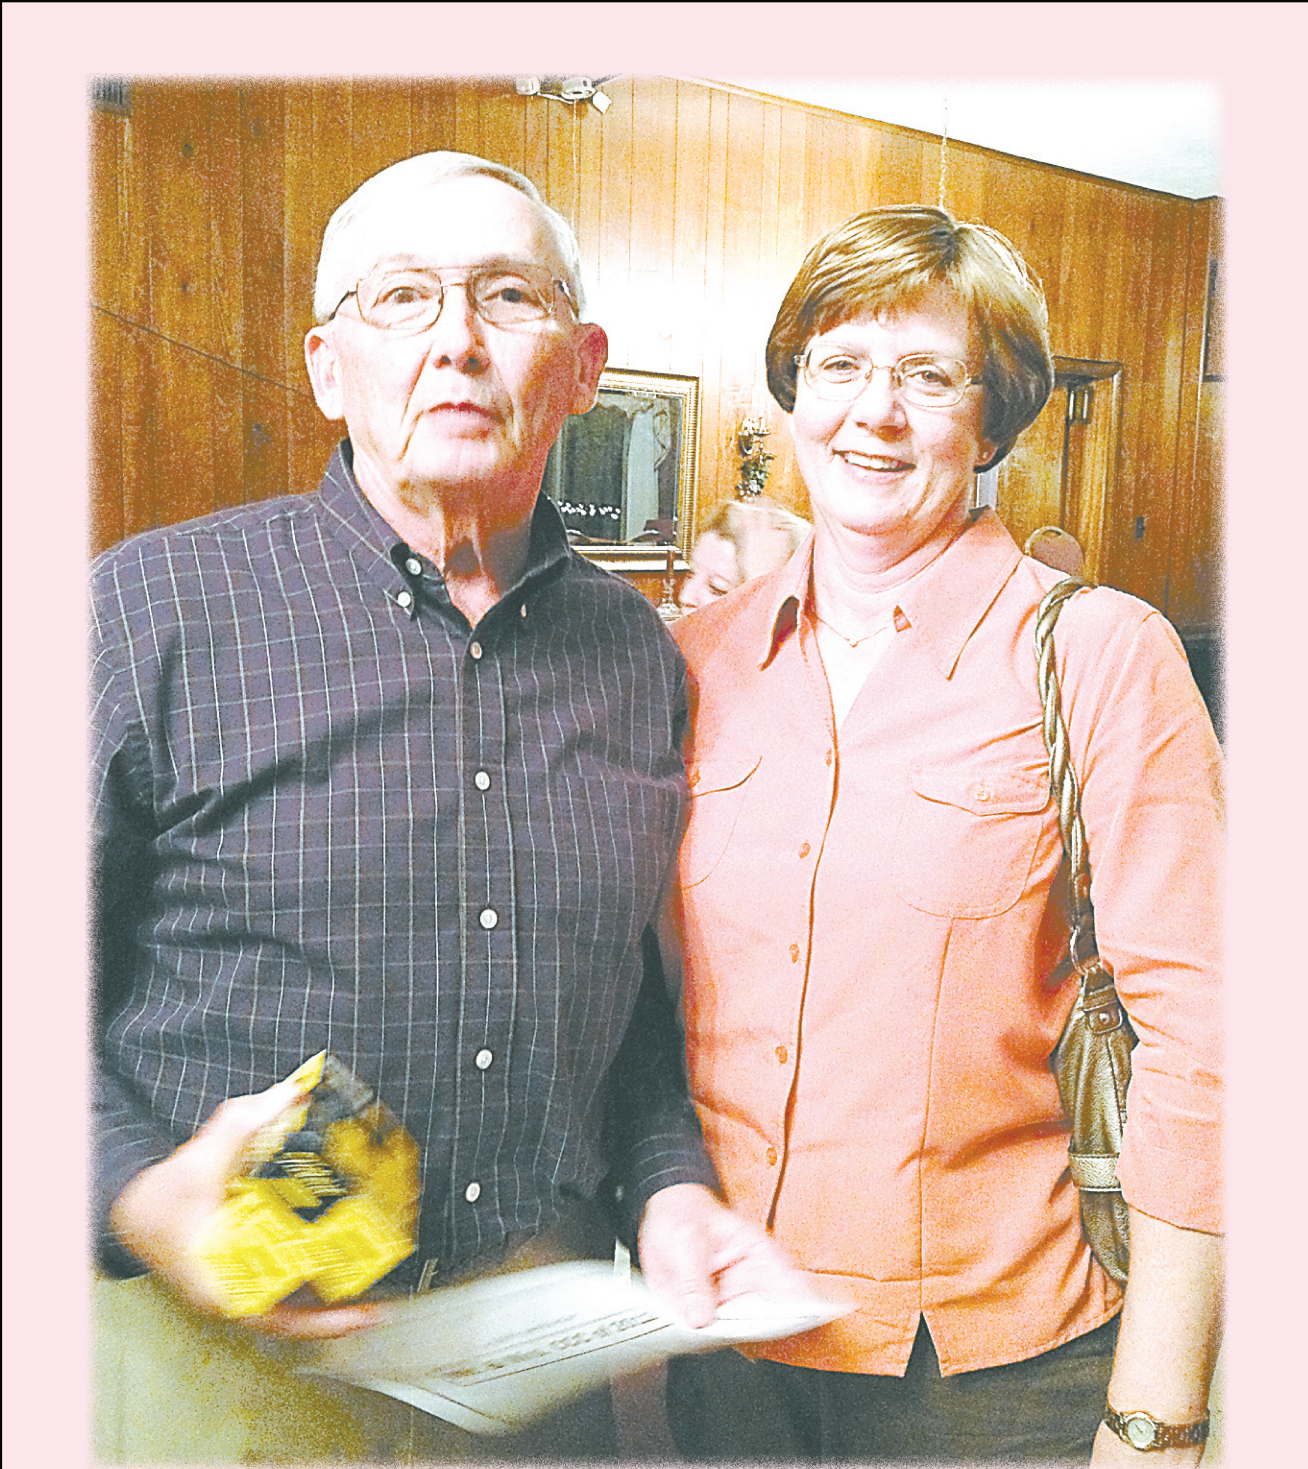

One of the key features of this tournament is the 35-40 minutes convocation with all teams held by Holmes Coach Jason Booher.

Booher was a passenger on the bus of Hardin County church youths returning from Kings Island that met Larry Mahoney driving the wrong way up I-71.

Sixteen lives were lost on that bus and Booher has a lesson on driving while intoxicated to pass along to the athletes.

The Breds will also participate in the Lake Cumberland Classic

Football banquet features senior and season awards

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County High School football team held its annual banquet Thursday night at the Elk’s Club with more than 100 people in attendance.

The awards ceremony featured a meal prepared by David Turner consisting of beef and pork barbecue and desserts furnished by the parents.

Coach Jim Carr was the master of ceremonies in the two-hour meal and program.

The evening began with a short, heart-felt message from Coach Tyler Fryman, who thanked the players and parents for all of their concern for him over the past season while he was battling an illness.

This was followed by recognition of the two seniors, Daniel Klapheke and Shane Jennings.

Coach Carr thanked the two young men for sticking with the program and setting an example for the others.

Carr then had the letter winners all stand and be recognized. The “H” letter and the bars will be presented later during the off-season weight training.

This was followed by Coach Wayne Mattox presenting the Big Stick Award to sophomore Zack Mastin. This was for the most big tackles and other hard hits throughout the season.

Coach Jimbo Stroub then presented Zach Royce with the Game Ball Award. Royce was lauded for his ability to play multiple positions well and being a team leader while carrying out these various duties.

Finally, the Rock Award went to junior Shaun Wallin. The six-foot, 220-pound lineman was praised for his line play throughout the season though he too was moved from one position to another and battled injuries during the year. Coach Bryn Free presented the Rock Award to Wallin.

Booster club president Tracy

Fryman discussed the fund raisers held this past year and the need for more of the same next year.

Sandy VanHook talked about the program for the season and how many people helped and that someone would need to be the chairperson for this next year.

Carr went on to recognize all of the people who had made contributions throughout the season including the coaches’ wives, the two stat girls, Audrey Ramsey and Haley Carr; Abby Sparks who filmed all of the games, the medical staff and all others who had contributed during the season.

He then had a short talk that was open to discussion about the off-season workouts and their relationship to safety and improvement of the team.

Carr also mentioned the fine season the Harrison County Middle School teams had just completed and the fine work of all of the coaches involved in this program.

MIKE’S MINUTE

College championship looks to be SEC-free

Should it be?

After Alabama’s stunning defeat at the hands of Texas A&M on Saturday, the BCS rankings have the Crimson Tide on the outside looking in at the national championship.

I have been examining the three teams in front of them and the merits to the Tide rolling into the championship.

All of this that I will go over assumes that the Alabama 11 will roll over Western Carolina, Auburn and win the SEC Championship against the Georgia Bulldogs.

I don’t think that Western Carolina and Auburn will even cause Alabama to work up a sweat as the Catamounts have only beaten Mars Hill and the Tigers (War Eagles) are probably the second worst team in the SEC.

The Bulldogs will be more difficult unless they put forth an effort like they did when they were in Lexington.

If they play like they did against the Wildcats, the Georgia Dome will look like the Big Horn River area after Sitting Bull and Crazy Horse left with the Sioux warriors.

Oregon is the most solid lock on a berth in the championship right now though they have some defensive injuries after the Cal game last week.

The Ducks are the fastest team in college football and are relent-

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

less in their offensive attack.

They deserve today to be in the final game and the fans that attend will see a show of shows offensively if they do make it.

Oregon still has Stanford (8-2) and Oregon State (7-2) to beat so they do not have a cake walk to an undefeated season.

Oregon really has only a win over USC as a big victory and their non-conference schedule was weak with Arkansas State, Fresno State and Tennessee Tech on it.

Kansas State has beaten Oklahoma for a signature win and also has an explosive offense. If they play Oregon the score might be 50-49. The K-State Wildcats non-conference schedule featured such heavy weights as Missouri State, North Texas State and Miami of Florida.

The Cats still must face Baylor (4-5) and the Texas Longhorns (8-2) to finish undefeated.

Notre Dame has played probably the toughest schedule of the three with weaker opponents Navy (though it was played in Dublin so the travel was tough), Purdue and upcoming opponent Wake Forest (5-5).

The Irish, like Kansas State, beat Oklahoma and Miami and also defeated Stanford who Oregon must still play. Overtime wins over Stanford and Pitt are not impressive except that they are wins.

The Irish must still play at Southern Cal who Oregon defeated 62-51 and the Demon Deacons.

I give both Kansas State and Oregon really good shots at being perfect for the season and the Irish could as well unless they get into a scoring contest with the Trojans in Los Angeles.

If the three all go undefeated, I look for Oregon and Notre Dame to be in the final though I believe Oregon versus Kansas State would be a more exciting game.

I feel like the BCS committee would be afraid to leave Notre Dame and their legions of fans nationwide out of the finals.

If two of them lose, then Alabama will be in the final game with one loss.

If they are, they will probably win unless Oregon is the opponent.

The Ducks are a higher powered version of Texas A&M and we saw Saturday how the Alabama defense fared against them. One point in the Tide’s favor though is Nick Saban’s ability to prepare if he has several weeks to do so.

It would be interesting to see.

Carr 21st in State Cross Country Meet Saturday

Junior Grant Carr took advantage of a beautiful day to run and finished 21st in the AA State Cross Country meet at the Kentucky Horse Park.

Carr was the only Harrison County runner who qualified and established himself as one to be contended with in future races.

“Grant had an outstanding race,” noted Coach Danny Simpson. “While it was not his best time of the year at 17:43, it was one of the finest performances by a Thorobred runner in the state meet for years.”

Simpson went on to note that Carr will be considered as one of the state’s better distance runners for this year. There were over 240 runners in the race, which was won by Nick Laureano of Lexington Catholic in 16:42. North Oldham won the team trophy followed by Bullitt East, Edmonson County, Covington Catholic and South Oldham.

after Christmas and the Jock Sutherland Classic at Lafayette in early February.

Two other new faces on the schedule will be the Estill County Engineers who return to the Thoroughbreds' schedule after years of absence and the top-rated team in the 8th Region, Martha Layne Collins of Shelby County.

The district and region both look to be wide open with the Breds among the contenders.

The 38th District has Pendleton County and Nicholas County returning most of last year's teams with improvements to both made over the summer.

Add Montgomery County, Bishop Brossart, Campbell County and Mason County to the three from this district and you have a balanced talented group of teams to contend for the 10th Region crown.

"We are looking forward to getting under way and playing ball," noted Kendall. "I believe that if the boys maintain the attitude and work ethic that they are showing in practice, the community will want to come out and support them. It promises to be an exciting year."

Kendall is assisted this season by Ron Spicer, Jamie Case, Jason Crisp and Dr. Stephen Moses. Even the ball boys are veterans on this team as Ian Boland and J.D. Kendall enter their third year of taking care of the leather spheres.

The public can get a preview of the team this Friday night when the Meet the Fillies and Breds program is held at the high school gym.

This will be a chance to see the wrestling team, the archers, the bowling team and the cheerleaders as well as the basketball girls and boys. This begins at 6:30 PM in the gym with the cost of $1 for students and $2 for adults.

Meet the Breds and Fillies Friday, Nov. 16

It's time to kick off another basketball season for the Harrison County Fillies and Thoroughbreds. The annual Meet the Breds and Fillies night will be held Friday, Nov. 16, at 6:30 p.m. in the high school gym.

The event will also showcase the wrestlers, cheerleaders, archery, bowlers, dancers and band members as well as the basketball teams. Tickets are $1 for students and $2 for adults. There will be introductions of the team members of each girls' and boys' team for all of the winter sports.

Come see the cheerleaders, wrestlers, archery team, bowlers, dancers, band members and basketball Breds and Fillies scrimmage. Fans are encouraged to wear maroon and white for the occasion. We want to get the Hilltop Rockin for the 2012-13 season.

Tryouts scheduled for girls' travel teams Nov. 18

Harrison County head girls' basketball coach Kim Furnish announces that there will be tryouts on Sunday, Nov. 18 for the youth girls' travel teams.

The tryouts will be held at the high school gym 3-5 p.m. All girls in grades 3 through 6 are invited and encouraged to come to try out. The Fillies coaching staff will be conducting the tryouts. For more information, contact Furnish at 859-234-7117 ext 2224 or email at kimberly.furnish@harrison.kyschools.us.

Bowlers in action in Louisville on Saturday in 18-team tournament

The Harrison County bowlers headed west on Saturday to compete in a strong 18-team tournament in Louisville. 2012 state champ Scott County, Manual, St. Xavier, Trinity, Pleasure Ridge Park and 12 other teams battle with the Harrison County bowling teams for nearly eight and one-half hours with few breaks in between matches.

The team scoring was very favorable for the Thoroughbreds and the Fillies as they finished third in the boys' competition and eighth in the girls'.

Individually, the top bowlers were Gregory Dick and Shaylee Carter as each of them finished 10th in the singles contest.

"We battled hard all day with little time for a break," commented Coach Petey Reynolds. "Neither team gave up and both showed heart and determination all day long."

Harrison County hits the lanes again this week with a Tuesday match at Bryan Station, which will be the final one until after Thanksgiving when they host Henry Clay on Nov. 26 at Galactic Alley.

BEGINNING at a point on the northeast corner of Main and Penn Streets, said point being 35.5 feet from a manhole in the intersection of aforesaid streets; and proceeding North 5°26' West with the East property line of Main Street a distance of 106 feet, more or less to a point; thence North 84°34' East with the property of Herron a distance of 210 feet to a point; thence South 5°26' East with the West line of an alley a distance of 106 feet, more or less, to the South property line of Penn Street; thence South 84°34' West with the South property line of Penn Street a distance of 210 feet to the point of beginning.

EXCEPTION: THERE IS EXCEPTED from the above described property a certain tract conveyed by Carl E. Begley & c., to G. J. Withers & c., on the 27th day of February, 1970, by deed recorded in Deed Book 134 Page 712, and which exception is more particularly described as follows: A certain lot situated in the City of Cynthiana, County of Harrison, State of Kentucky, located on the north side of East Penn Street between North Main Street and North Walnut Street and being further described as follows: BEGINNING at a set stake at the intersection of an alley and the north rightway line of E. Penn Street; thence S. 84°34' W. 95.40 ft. with north R/W line of E. Penn Street to a set stake, corner with Carl Begley and Ronald Ecklar; thence N. 5°26' W. 106 ft. more or less to a point, corner with U.J. Herrin; thence N. 84°34' E. 95.40 ft. with line of U.J. Herrin to a point on the west side of an alley; thence S. 5°26' E. 106 ft. more or less along the west side of an alley to the beginning point, according to survey by Berlyn Brown, Land Surveyor, made on January 31, 1970. See plat recorded in Deed Book 134, Page 706.

Being the same property conveyed to Nathan Wigglesworth and Vickie Wigglesworth, husband and wife, by Deed dated April 15, 2005, being of record in Deed Book 283, Page 80, of record in the Office of the Clerk of Harrison County, Kentucky.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Whitaker Bank, Inc., on Count One in the amount of $80,414.07, plus interest at the rate of 6.25% per annum from April 17, 2012 until paid, plus accrued interest for any other charges which have accrued, plus late fees and any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Whitaker Bank, Inc., on Count Two in the amount of $365.19, plus interest at the rate of 6.50% per annum from April 17, 2012 until paid, plus late fees and any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (d) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2011 and previous years. (e) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2012 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana for 2011 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendants.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS (REBID) CONTRACT 318-10-01 WASTEWATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENTS CITY OF BERRY BERRY, KENTUCKY

Sealed proposals for the following work will be received by the City of Berry, Harrison County, Kentucky at the Berry City Hall, 108 Main Street, Berry, Kentucky 41003, until 1:30 p.m., local time, Thursday, December 6, 2012, for furnishing labor and materials and performing all work as set forth by the Advertisement, General Conditions, Specifications and/or Drawings prepared by Bell Engineering. Immediately following the scheduled closing time for the reception of bids, all proposals which have been submitted in accordance with the above conditions will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The work to be bid is described as follows:

Upgrade of existing wastewater collection and treatment facilities.

Drawings, Specifications, and Contract Documents may be examined at the following places:

City of Berry
108 Main Street
Berry, Kentucky 41003

Bell Engineering
2480 Fortune Drive, Suite 350
Lexington, Kentucky 40509

and at various plan review agencies, or may be obtained from Lynn Imaging, 328 E. Vine Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40507, phone 859/255-1021, upon receipt of non-refundable deposit as follows:

CONTRACT 318-10-01 - $250.00

Sealed proposals for this Contract shall be clearly marked on the outside of the envelope as follows:

*Sealed Proposal for Contract 318-10-01. Not to be opened until 1:30 p.m., local time, Thursday, December 6, 2012."

If forwarded by mail, the sealed envelope containing the proposal must be enclosed in another envelope and mailed to the City of Berry, allowing sufficient time for such mailing to reach this address prior to the scheduled closing time for receipt of proposals.

The hours of operation of the Berry City Hall are as follows:

Monday—Closed
Tuesday and Thursday—1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.
Wednesday and Friday—8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Bids shall be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond made payable to the City of Berry, Kentucky, in an amount not less than the percent of the base bid indicated in Specification Section 00200, Instructions to Bidders, Bid Security. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of 90 days after the date bids are opened. He may, however, withdraw his bid at any time prior to the time and date scheduled for opening of same or any authorized postponement thereof. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered and will be returned unopened to the bidder.

The attention of all contractors is called to the fact that any contract awarded under this Advertisement for Bids is expected to be funded in part by a grant/loan from Community Development Block Grant and Rural Development.

The OWNER's share will be provided from current funds on hand and/or from revenue bonds.

Work to be performed by contractors involved in this project is subject to the minimum wage rates established by the U.S. Department of Labor under the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act and the Kentucky Department of Labor, as set forth in Chapter 337 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes (per amendments adopted by the 1970 General Assembly). Contractors will be required to pay whichever minimum wage rate is higher for the individual crafts.

Both Federal and State wage rate determinations will be incorporated into the Specifications by an addendum issued prior to the scheduled bidding date.

Bidders must comply with Section 3, Section 109, and the President's Executive Order Nos. 11246 and 11375, which prohibit discrimination in employment regarding race, creed, color, sex or national origin. Where the President's Executive Order No. 11246 is shown, Executive Order No. 11375 also applies.

Bidders must make positive efforts to secure small or minority owned business enterprise participation in this Project and minority bidders are encouraged to bid.

Bidders must comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Anti-Kickback Act, the Contract Work Hours Standard Act, and the Davis-Bacon Act.

Bidders must certify that they do not and will not maintain or provide for their employees any facilities that are segregated or based on race, color, creed, or national origin.

Bidders must show a certification of prior work under Executive Order 11246 (Equal Employment Opportunity) as amended.

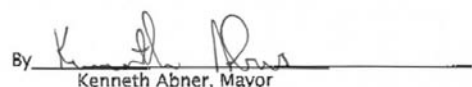

All contractors and subcontractors must comply with 41 CFR 60-4, in regard to affirmative action. This is to insure equal opportunity to females and minorities, and apply the time tables and goals set forth in 41 CFR 60-4.

Neither the United States nor any of its departments, agencies or employees is or will be a party to this Invitation for Bids or any resulting contract. This procurement is subject to the requirements outlined in the Kentucky Infrastructure Supplemental General Conditions.

The City of Berry may consider informal any bid not prepared and submitted in accordance with the provisions of this advertisement and/or the Specifications and may waive any informalities or reject any and all bids.
